Simon Gray and Graham Marr Appointed Co-Managing Partners of Arcus Infrastructure Partners

Arcus Infrastructure Partners is pleased to announce the election of Simon Gray and Graham Marr as Co-Managing Partners.

Together, Simon and Graham bring over 40 years of combined experience in infrastructure investment, operations and management. They have been working together since 1996 and have both played a significant part in the creation and development of the Arcus business. On their joint appointment Simon said "I think this is an excellent result for both Arcus and the investors in AEIF1. Our respective experience and skill sets are highly complementary and this appointment will provide both continuity for the business and the Fund as well as strong leadership for the continuing growth and development of Arcus as a leading infrastructure manager". Graham commented "I am delighted to have been appointed by my fellow Partners and I look forward to working with Simon in our new roles to harness and develop the strengths of the broader Arcus team to move our business forward and to ensure that Arcus continues to provide effective, strong and high quality management of the investments in our first Fund."
